2022 Annual Meeting

ROME CAVALIERI, A WALDORF ASTORIA HOTEL
ROME, ITALY

Dear Friends:

Brett and I are delighted to welcome you to the Annual Meeting of the American College of Trial Lawyers at the marvelous Rome Cavalieri, A Waldorf Astoria Hotel.

We have planned an exciting meeting, beginning with the President's Welcome Event on Thursday evening at Villa Miani. This is a spectacular venue in which to gather and begin our time together in the Eternal City.

President-Elect Susan Harriman has planned an exciting two-day program of distinguished international speakers addressing current and thought-provoking topics. Fellows and spouses or guests are sure to be entertained, educated, and enlightened. You won't want to miss any of our speakers.

Local tours and activities are being offered Thursday, Friday and Saturday afternoons and promise to provide adventure and plenty of opportunities to explore Rome's culture and the historical city and countryside. We hope you will enjoy exploring the city for a relaxing afternoon.

Friday evening is the traditional highlight of our meeting, the induction of new Fellows and Black Tie Banquet, followed by dancing and the time-honored Sing-Along.

Saturday evening's reception, dinner and entertainment will be a once-in-a-lifetime experience as the College gathers among the ruins of the ancient Baths of Caracalla. As a UNESCO World Heritage site, special government permission was granted to ACTL to make this event possible.

Please remember to wear your name badge, and we look forward to a memorable time.

Ciao!

Joe Donnelly was confirmed January 20, 2022, as U.S. Ambassador to the Holy See. Previously, he represented Indiana in the U.S. Senate from 2013 to 2019 and served in the U.S. House of Representatives (2007–13).

Donnelly was born in New York City and raised on Long Island. He attended Notre Dame, receiving a bachelor's degree (1977) in government and a law degree (1981). He worked for a law firm in South Bend before opening a printing business in nearby Mishawaka in 1996. Donnelly was twice reelected to the House before running for the U.S. Senate in 2012. A moderate in a state long divided between largely Democratic urban areas and Republican suburban and rural districts, he won endorsement from newspapers and business organizations throughout the state. Donnelly won the 2012 general election, becoming the first Democrat to win a statewide race in Indiana in more than 10 years.

Bernard Frischer, Ph.D.

Digital Archaeologist, Professor,
Department of Informatics, Indiana University
Bloomington, Indiana

Dr. Frischer is a leading virtual archaeologist and the author of seven books and dozens of articles on virtual heritage, Classics, and the survival of the Classical world. He is the founding editor of Digital Applications in Archaeology and Cultural Heritage, an innovative online, peer-reviewed journal where scientists can publish interactive 3D models. Dr. Frischer received his B.A. summa cum laude in Classics from Wesleyan University (CT) in 1971 and his Ph.D. summa cum laude in Classics from the University of Heidelberg in 1975. He held a post-doctoral fellowship in Roman archaeology at the American Academy in Rome from 1974 to 1976. Afterwards, he taught Classics and Roman Topography at UCLA from 1976 to 2004. From 2004 to 2013 he was Professor of Art History and Classics at the University of Virginia, where he was also founding Director of the Virtual World Heritage Laboratory. The lab's mission is to apply 3D digital tools to simulating cultural heritage artifacts and sites as heuristic instruments of discovery. Since 2013 he has been a Professor of Informatics in the School of Informatics at Indiana University, where he continues to direct the Virtual World Heritage Laboratory.

Dr. Frischer has been a guest professor at the University of Pennsylvania, the University of Bologna, Beijing Normal University and also held the post of Professor-in-Charge of the Intercollegiate Center for Classical Studies in Rome (2000-01). From 1996 to 2003 he directed the excavations of Horace's Villa sponsored by the American Academy in Rome, and from 1996 to 2004 he was founding director of the UCLA Cultural Virtual Reality Laboratory. The lab was one of the first in the world to use 3D computer modeling to reconstruct cultural heritage sites. Frischer has overseen many significant modeling projects, including Rome Reborn, the virtual recreation of the entire city of ancient Rome within the Aurelian Walls. In recent years, he has focused on digitization and digital restoration of ancient sculpture, creation of a 3D restoration model of Hadrian's Villa, and on using interactive models of historic monuments and the historically restored sky in archaeoastronomical research.

Delia Gallagher

CNN's Vatican Correspondent
Rome, Italy

A long-time Vatican analyst for CNN and a leading journalist on religious issues, Gallagher joined the network in 2002 and is based in Rome. Her work at CNN has covered Pope John Paul II, Pope Benedict XVI, and Pope Francis. Drawing from her extensive experience covering the Vatican and religions around the world, Gallagher provides reports and analysis for the network on a wide range of topics involving faith, religion, and values.

In 2021, Gallagher accompanied Pope Francis on his visit to Iraq and has reported extensively on Italy's efforts to combat the coronavirus pandemic. In 2019, she joined Pope Francis' historic trip to the United Arab Emirates -- the first visit to an Arab Gulf state by a pontiff.

She has also reported expansively on sexual abuse in the Catholic Church beginning with the 2002 meeting of US Cardinals at the Vatican under John Paul II through the 2019 sex abuse summit at the Vatican under Pope Francis.

In 2018, Gallagher was the Master of Ceremonies for an event at the Vatican with Pope Francis to launch his new book, Sharing the Wisdom of Time, Loyola Press, a collection of wisdom stories from elders, including the Pope and Martin Scorsese. She has also been a featured speaker and moderator at Vatican and international conferences on religious issues for many years.

Gallagher joined CNN after more than five years of covering the Vatican as an analyst for the network and also served as Senior Editor for Inside the Vatican.

Gallagher earned a bachelor's degree from the University of San Francisco and holds a master's degree in philosophy and theology from Blackfriars Hall, University of Oxford. Gallagher also worked as a researcher and editor at Oxford University Press. In that capacity, she assisted with a seminal CD-ROM project on the Dead Sea scrolls.
