106	August 2015 - present	OSBA/ACTL Ohio Civil Justice Task Force	Ohio	Ohio	In the late summer of 2015, the Litigation Section of the Ohio State Bar Association decided to review Ohio's rules of civil procedure, in part due to the recent adoption of amendments to the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure. Through then state chairman FACTL John Holshuh, the ACTL Ohio state committee expressed an interest and willingness to participate in the project, to introduce principles from the College's white paper, "Reforming Our Civil Justice System: A Report On Progress and Promise." FACTL Tom Green was asked to coordinate with the OSBA. An initial committee of three was formed, OSBA representative Martin Foes, Esq., judicial representative the Honorable Michael W. Krumholz (Judicial Fellow of the College) and Tom Green as representative of the College. Those three invited 21 other attorneys and judges from around Ohio to participate, forming a committee of 24, which includes four additional FACTLs and one additional judicial fellow of the College. The College is well-represented with seven of the 24 participants. The committee formed subcommittees to address six different issues. Once the initial spadework was done, the entire committee has met every several months (usually courtesy of committee member and Judicial Fellow, the Honorable Richard A. Frye, who has provided a centrally located space in the Franklin County Common Pleas Courthouse) and worked through several iterations of proposed changes to the Ohio Rules of Civil Procedure. Among other changes, the committee is seeking to introduce the concept of "proportionality" to Ohio's rules, and to increase the amount of interaction among counsel in setting workable timetables and reasonable discovery for all civil matters. There are changes proposed to 9 of Ohio's rules. The committee has been assisted by representatives of the Ohio Judicial College and the Ohio Supreme Court. The expectation is that the "final" draft will be sent to the Supreme Court's rules committee in June 2017, for comment, initial public review and consideration of any proposed changes. The process will continue through adoption of one or more proposed amendments to be effective July 1, 2018. Other Fellows on the committee: Patrick W. Allen, Daniel J. Buckley, Robert G. Palmer, R. Gary Winters	ACTL/IAALS "Reforming Our Civil Justice System: A Report On Progress And Promise"

132	3/21/2017	Presentations at PA Legal Aid Network Regional Training Seminar		Pennsylvania	Fellows, Joseph C. Crawford, John P. McShea III and Timothy R. Lawn and Pennsylvania State Committee Vice Chair Catherine M. Recker made presentations at the Pennsylvania Legal Aid Network's Regional Training Seminar in Philadelphia. The Pennsylvania Legal Aid Network (PLAN) is a consortium of agencies and programs that provide legal representation in civil litigation matters to low income individuals and families throughout Pennsylvania. The public interest lawyers from the various organizations that make up the PLAN network get involved in, among other things, securing Veterans' benefits, fighting wrongful evictions, advocating for farm workers and protecting low income earners from wage theft. Noted civil trial attorney and now Judicial Fellow, Gerald A. McHugh Jr. of the United States District Court for the Eastern District of Pennsylvania served as Chair of the Board of PLAN while in private practice. He has encouraged Fellows in Pennsylvania to not only financially support the excellent work done by these public service agencies, but to also become actively involved with assisting in the training and development of PLAN lawyers across the Commonwealth. Crawford and Recker gave a 90-minute presentation on negotiation skills, during which they shared advice and suggestions on how to effectively resolve cases through negotiation. McShea gave a 60-minute presentation on conducting direct and cross-examination of expert witnesses. Lawn gave a 60-minute presentation on effective trial advocacy techniques. Before preparing their materials and making their presentations, the Fellows discussed with PLAN's Executive Director and Training Coordinator the negotiation and litigation issues commonly faced by legal aid lawyers in their network. Each year PLAN surveys their members to learn what litigation issues they are facing in their practices. The Fellows' presentations at the training seminar were tailored to address the issues these public interest lawyers face, which are not the issues the Fellows see in their respective practices. For instance, Recker and Crawford spent considerable time addressing the ethical dilemmas presented in negotiating with unrepresented opposing parties and in negotiating cases where legal aid programs have a statutory right to receive an attorneys' fee. McShea's presentation was designed towards examining expert witnesses that public interest lawyers see in their practices; such as a child's treating physicians and psychologists. In his presentation Lawn discussed the importance of developing sound case themes, and tailoring persuasion and advocacy skills to the finder of fact for that particular setting; be it a jury, administrative law judge or arbitrator. All three sessions were designed to be interactive and encouraged questions from the attendees. The result was lively question and answer formats that covered issues important to these lawyers, and went far beyond the prepared written materials. The goal envisioned by Judge McHugh, and shared by these Fellows, is the College's assistance in providing interesting seminars and insight to less experienced public interest lawyers will help them in their representation of the less fortunate members of our society. A strong bond between the College and the public interest bar will inure to the benefit of both.

138	April 6, 2017	Panel discussion on "Leaks, the Media and the Law"	American University Law School	District of Columbia	In April, as part of its continuing effort to reach out to the local law school communities, the District of Columbia Committee, along with the American University School of Law, sponsored a discussion on "Leaks and the Law." The panel featured Matt Apuzzo, a highly regarded reporter with the New York Times, who has himself been the subject of Department of Justice subpoenas in leak investigations; Stan Brand, a well-known white collar defense attorney at Akin Gump; and John Kiriakou, a former Central Intelligence Agency executive who wound up being charged in a leak investigation. The discussion focused on the debate between the societal benefits of leaks in informing the public about their government's secret operations and the potential harm to national security that may result from the same leaks, and how the law has tried to deal with those conflicting policies. It was a spirited discussion and well attended by members of the College, along with other D.C. attorneys and American University law students.

143	5/12/17	Implicit Bias Seminar		Public Defenders Committee	Through a grant from the Foundation, the Public Defenders Committee sponsored a seminar on implicit bias on May 12, 2017 at Fordham University Law School. Fellows Paul Dewolfe, Maurice Grant, Public Defenders Committee Chair Brendan O'Neill and Leigh Skipper attended the live presentation at Fordham. The two-hour seminar was a success. The presenters were Rachel Godsil, Director of Research at the Perception Institute and professor at Rutgers University Law School and Alexis McGill Johnson, Executive Director of the Perception Institute. The presentation was filmed then formatted into two separate videos, each one hour long. In Part 1, Godsil and Johnson address racial paradoxes (why outcomes do not seem to align with society's egalitarian values) and implicit bias. In Part 2, Godsil covers racial anxiety, stereotype threat and then took questions from the audience. The videos are available on the College YouTube channel. Click here to view
144	5/15/17	Trial Skills Program	Suffolk University Law School	ME, MA, NH, RI, CT	The experimental First Region Twelve Trial Skills Workshop on Opening Statements at Suffolk Law School exceeded expectations by selling out. The one-day program had 147 participants for the small group workshops, with 160 participants for the large group demonstrations. Forty-five volunteer coaches from Region Twelve Fellows, some from as far away as Puerto Rico, were on hand for the small group workshops. The program included 4 presenters, 2 discussion facilitators and 3 judges all drawn from Fellows. Co-sponsorship and participation included members from the Atlantic Provinces, Connecticut, Maine, Massachusetts, New Hampshire, Puerto Rico and Rhode Island. The program was approved for CLE credit in Maine, Massachusetts and New Hampshire. A number of donations to the Foundation allowed the price for the event to be at a low, affordable cost, which resulted in providing more than 70 full and partial scholarships, and covered related expenditures for the event. Leading up to the event, the program had weekly full or partial publicity for two months with program partners, the Massachusetts Lawyers Weekly and Rhode Island Lawyers Weekly, publications that reach almost 25,000 lawyers each week. Distant traveler awards go to: Fellow Maria Dominguez from Puerto Rico; attendee Michael Blades of Nova Scotia; Fellow Paul Mark Sandler of Maryland and Fellow Pam Mackey of Colorado. Early feedback from participants includes many responses such as, "This was a great way for young attorneys to get an opportunity to practice trial skills [an opportunity], which is disappearing" and "Wonderful program. Please do this again."
145	5/24/2017	Legal Services Training Program	Fred Levin (University of Florida) Law School	Florida	Eight Florida Fellows hosted the day-long program. 174	169		Texas Pretrial Academy Program		Texas	Under the leadership of Fellow Reagan Brown, multiple Texas Fellows of the College again participated as faculty for the 2017 Texas Pretrial Academy at The University of Texas Law School. Each year, Texas Fellows partner with the Texas Access to Justice Commission to conduct an academy for young attorneys who are employed with public interest organizations and legal aid clinics in Texas. During the "even" numbered years, the Texas Fellows serve as faculty at a trial academy at which public interest lawyers have the opportunity to learn and practice trial skills by performing demonstrations of voir dire examinations, opening statements, direct and cross-examinations of fact and expert witnesses, and closing arguments. The Texas Fellows demonstrate these trial skills to the public interest attorneys and critique the performance of the public interest attorneys' exercises. During the "odd" numbered years, the Texas Fellows serve as faculty and present lectures in specific areas of the litigation practice such as evidence and appellate advocacy. At the 2017 Academy, representatives of the following legal aid programs attended: Catholic Charities, Disability Rights Texas, Legal Aid of NorthWest Texas, Legal Aid Society of Lubbock, Texas Rio Grande Legal Aid, Texas Legal Services Center, Family Violence Prevention Services, South Texas College of Law Legal Clinic, Lone Star Legal Aid, Earl Carl Institute, Beacon Law, Montgomery County Women's Center, CitySquare Legal Action Works, and RAICES (Refugee and Immigrant Center for Education and Legal Services).

175		Daniel D. Jewell Trial Institute		Nebraska	Working with the Nebraska State Bar Foundation Nebraska Fellows developed materials concerning a will contest for the institute. Younger, inexperienced lawyers applied to the institute which involved a day and a half program. Each student was required to select a jury from volunteer jurors, make opening statements, examine and cross-examine volunteer witnesses, offer evidence, including selected deposition testimony, submit requested instructions and complete an instruction conference with the judge. Thereafter, they made final arguments. The first Institute was held in 2016 at Creighton University School of Law. A U.S. District Court Judge, an active State Court trial judge and a retired State Court trial judge presided in three courtrooms. Each student was assigned a mentor to critique each student's performance and provide advice. The volunteer mentor lawyers were all Nebraska Fellows. The first Institute was a success, and a second Institute was held in 2017 at the University of Nebraska College of Law. Once again volunteer mentors were all College Fellows. The presiding judges, two female and one male, included two current and one retired state trial court jurists. The third Institute is planned for the summer of 2018 at Creighton University Law School.

197	191	May 1, 2018	Reception at Thomas R. Kline Institute for Trial Advocacy	Philadelphia	Pennsylvania	On May 1, 2018, Eastern Pennsylvania Fellows held a reception at the Thomas R. Kline Institute for Trial Advocacy in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. Fellow Tom Kline spoke about the transformation of the former Beneficial Savings Bank building and its new use as a trial advocacy center for the Drexel University Kline School of Law. Tom Kline purchased the 24,000-square-foot building in late 2012 and donated it to Drexel University in 2014. The building was designed by Horace Trumbauer and constructed in 1916 for Beneficial Bank. Trumbauer, a Philadelphia architect, designed, among other works, the Philadelphia Museum of Art and the main library of Harvard University. The building has ornate high ceilings and other fine detailing, including the original board room of the bank. At the reception, Tom discussed his vision for use of the building and the work undertaken to restore the building into a trial advocacy training center for law students. He then took Fellows on a tour of the ceremonial courtroom, trial practice rooms and other parts of the Institute. The Pennsylvania Fellows enjoyed the event and appreciated Tom's insights and generosity. Fellows hope to find other opportunities to schedule College events at the Kline Institute.

The program was entitled "It's All About the Evidence." The presenters were Fellows of the ACTL and judges from both the federal and state courts. Attendees watched as attorneys offered, and judges "ruled" on the admissibility of, social media and digital evidence. Attendees also saw a fascinating presentation entitled "Computer Graphic Evidence—when to use it and how to get it in front of the jury." In this section, the attendees viewed graphic simulations and animations that were prepared for an actual wrongful death case. The program also addressed ethical pitfalls during jury selection and during trial. There were also presentations on a host of other evidentiary issues commonly faced by trial attorneys including the admissibility of expert testimony. The program was well-attended and received high marks.

204	198	June 1, 2018		District of Columbia	On Jun. 1, 2018 the committee sponsored what has become an annual full-day trial practice program featuring presentations by Fellows and the active participation of a number of trial judges from the federal court and the DC Superior Court. Again this year, Fellows Tom Connelly and Mark Hopson took the lead in organizing the program. There were approximately 105 lawyers who attended the program, which was a huge success with near unanimous "outstanding" comments on the written reviews received at the conclusion of the program.
205	199	June 12, 2018		Quebec	On Jun. 12, 2018, Province Committee Vice-Chair Bernard Amyot acted as co-president to the jury of the English Oratory Competition. The competition aims at encouraging candidates to let many required qualities in a trial attorney shine, namely: eloquence, rhetoric, general knowledge, creativity, and wisdom.
206	200	June 13-15, 2018	Lexington	Kentucky	A Trial Skills Training Program was offered by 20 Kentucky Fellows to public interest lawyers. The program included presentations by Fellows and role playing exercises for the students with critique by Kentucky Fellows.

208	202	June 27, 2018	Direct & Cross Examination Jones Day Office, New York	New York	An all-day program with 24 participants was held by Fellows from the New York-Downstate chapter on June 27, 2018. All participants were legal services lawyers. Held at the Jones Day office in downtown Manhattan, it included nine Fellows who acted as trainers. Titled "Direct & Cross Examination," it consisted of mock trial exercises using College materials. Actors were used to play witnesses. Fellows who volunteered to assist as trainers included: Regent Ritchie Berger, Susan Kellman, former Downstate New York Committee Chair Isabelle Kirshner, Shawn P. Kelly; former New York-Downstate Committee Chair Larry H. Krantz; Marc Mukasey, Pete Putzel, Andrew Lawler, and Tai Park. The feedback received was overwhelmingly positive.
209	203	June 29, 2018	Connecticut Legal Services Annual Meeting	Connecticut	On June 29, 2018 Fellow Paul M. Iannaccone, State Committee Chair John J. Houlihan, Jr. and Judicial Fellow Hope C. Seeley, Judge of the State of Connecticut, Superior Court participated in the Connecticut Legal Services Annual Meeting putting on a lecture and demonstration on use of expert testimony.
210	204	July 13, 2018	Vermont Trial Academy Vermont Law School South Royalton, VT	Vermont	Fellows prepared 7-minute presentations of four trial segments for either a criminal, civil or family case. Trial segments included: (1) an opening statement; (2) a direct examination of a fact witness; (3) a cross examination of a fact witness; and (4) a closing statement. The number of segments presented during the academy were dependent on the number of participants who registered. Each segment presented was critiqued by the presiding judge in the courtroom and by a Vermont Fellow in the American College of Trial Lawyers.

212	206	July 12-13, 2018		New Jersey	On Jul. 11-12, 2018 State Committee Chair Scott Parsons moderated an Advocacy Trial Demonstration on behalf of the College. Over 20 Fellows participated in the two-day seminar. The program is hosted every two years, with this year's program seeing great success. Over 150 people were in attendance, and the feedback was all positive.
213	207	July 16, 2018	Chesterfield	Missouri	Fellows helped sponsor a program that was presented by the National Judicial College, where all invitees were Missouri judges at all levels. The program was an interview and discussion with descendants from the Dred Scott decision which started in St. Louis at the old courthouse, which is still there and is now a federal monument. https://www.judges.org/symposium-will-bring-together-descendants-of-dred-scott-thomas-jefferson-jefferson-davis/
214	208	August - November		Ohio	Ohio Fellows assisted the Ohio State Bar Association (OSBA) in its inaugural Ohio Practice Skills Institute: Trial Advocacy program. It was designed to be completed online to provide hands-on educational opportunities to attorneys who struggle to attend in-person programs due to time or distance. Over three months the majority of the participants completed 3-4 assignments which were 10-minute videos of the participant practicing a trial advocacy skill. Using a fictitious product liability wrongful death case, the participants had the opportunity to practice direct and cross examination, opening statements and closing arguments. 13 Fellows were matched with one or two participants. Each Fellow reviewed his participant's video submissions and provided detailed feedback – both positive and constructive – to help improve the participant's trial advocacy skills. Several of the Fellows' final assignment reviews reference the growth and abilities they saw in their participants throughout the course of the program. Fellows also received CLE credit for their time, and some developed connections with their participants. The OSBA was grateful to the Fellows who gave their time. The Program Director said "this was a much more engaging program from a typical CLE program. We could not have provided the same level of education to the attorney participants without the involvement of seasoned experts who were interested in helping improve others skills. The time given by the ACTL Fellows truly made this program possible."
215	209	Aug.12-24, 2018		Wyoming	Fellows actively supported an intensive two-week summer course third year law students at the University of Wyoming Law School from Aug. 12-24, 2018.

217	211	Sept. 6, 2018	Boot Camp Trial Training Program for Young Lawyers	Columbus Federal Court	Ohio	On September 6, 2018 the ACTL in conjunction with the American Bar Association and the Ohio State Bar Association Access to Justice Committee provided a one-day trial skills training Boot Camp at The Joseph P. Kinneary U.S. Courthouse in Columbus, Ohio. There were over 100 lawyers in attendance 41 of whom were Legal Aid or Public Interest lawyers who attended without tuition. The faculty consisted of ACTL Ohio Fellows John Barron, Jim Brazeau, Jim Curphey, Michael Eagen, Tom Green, Kim Herlihy, John Holschuh, Jeff Hutson, Rob Kincaid, Bill Kloss, Paul Sandler, Craig Woods and John Gilliland. The event was hosted by Chief Judge Edmund Sargus who also participated in a judicial panel with his wife, retired Common Pleas Judge Jennifer Sargus, and Common Pleas Judge David Branstool and Municipal Court Judge Andrea Peeples. Also in attendance was Gene Vance, Chair of the Litigation Section of the American Bar Association. The program consisted of a series of lectures, demonstrations of trial skills from opening statement to direct and cross examination and closing argument. In addition, a panel of commentators provided instruction on what was effective and what was not in the demonstration and why. The Judges participated on a panel to advise trial lawyers about what is effective and what is not and to answer the questions. The program was very well received. The Teaching Committee of the ACTL and the Ohio State Bar Association are interested in taking the Boot Camp to other locations in Ohio, probably Cleveland or Cincinnati in the fall. The College has appointed a Task Force to take the Boot Camp training throughout the country. John Gilligan serves on the Task Force.
218	212	Sept. 7-8, 2018		Lexington	Kentucky	Twenty-one Fellows were actively involved in a trial skills training program for legal aid lawyers on Sept. 7-8, 2018 in Lexington, Kentucky. The program was a success, and Justice Michelle Keller and Justice Larry VanMeter, both of the Kentucky Supreme Court, attended the cocktail reception. Justice Keller, who is head of the Supreme Court Access to Justice Commission, said the College provided "valuable skills training in partnership with the Access to Justice Commission."

219	213	Sept. 16, 2018	May It Please the Court: Effective Oral Appellate Advocacy	Barry Law School, Orlando	Florida	On Sept. 16, 2018, the College joined with the American Academy of Appellate Lawyers to present a half-day seminar to public interest lawyers in Florida. The free CLE program, "May It Please the Court: Effective Appellate Oral Advocacy," was held at the Barry Law School in Orlando and enthusiastically received by the audience. Video excerpts were played, including mock appellate arguments by Past President Chilton Davis Varner and Former Regent Dennis Suplee. Sylvia Walbolt, a member of the College's Teaching of Trial and Appellate Advocacy Committee and its Access to Justice and Legal Services Committee, gave a short talk about ethical issues in appellate matters, which was followed by a lively panel discussion of various strategic and ethical appellate advocacy issues by her, Suplee, and a Fellow of the Academy. Frank MacDonald, a former chair of the Florida State Committee, took the lead in advertising the seminar and handling the myriad of logistical issues, and gave a welcome on behalf of the College. Florida Fellow Charlie Pillans provided assistance with logistics, and the Florida State Committee provided financial assistance. This program can easily be presented by any other State or Province Committee
220	214	Sept. 25, 2018	Court Etiquette: How to Best Act with Your Colleagues and with Judges?		Quebec	The panel Court Etiquette: How to Best Act with our Colleagues and with Judges? was held at Université de Montréal Faculty of Law on September 25th, 2018. Sophie Melchers and Julie-Martine Loranger, both Fellows of the College, were in charge of the presentation. Many law students attended this panel and it was a great success. The College will be invited to present other panels in the future.
221	215	October			Utah	The committee intends to co-sponsor a half-day symposium on the topic of Government Investigations; How to Minimize Civil and Criminal Liability. It will be held at the University of Utah Law School in October 2018. The symposium will be funded, in part, by a grant from the College Foundation. Over 100 participants are expected, consisting of state and federal judges; representatives from the Federal Public Defenders Office; the U.S. Attorney's Office; and the Legal Services Corporation; and local prosecutors and private practitioners. Keeping with tradition, the Utah Fellows intend to donate the majority of the registration fee to "And Justice for All" which provides legal services to individuals and families struggling with abuse, disability and discrimination.
222	216	Fall		Georgetown University Law Center	District of Columbia	The program for fall 2018 will be a retrospective on the remarkable life and career of Fellow Edward Bennett Williams to be held at Georgetown University Law Center. The panel will be comprised of a group of Fellows who tried cases with or against Ed Williams and will be moderated by a noted Washington journalist. Consistent with prior programs, Fellows will be encouraged to invite colleagues from their law firms or offices and, in light of the popularity of prior programs, consideration will be given to expanding the invitation list more broadly in the Washington legal community.

223	217		Calgary	Alberta	In October 2018, four Fellows presented a question and answer panel on Ethical Issues before an audience of about 275 crown prosecutors. The panel was a part of the Alberta Crown Prosecution Service fall conference held at the Fairmont Palliser Hotel in Calgary. Fellows on the panel were Hon. Neil Wittmann, Q.C. (retired Chief Justice of the Court of Queen's Bench of Alberta), Hon. Laura Stevens, Provincial Court of Alberta, Mona Duckett Q.C., (Regent), Kevin Mott, Crown Prosecutor. The session was very well received by the conference attendees.
224	218			Texas	On October 5, 2018, the Texas State Committee held a 6-hour CLE in Dallas, "Jury Trials: First Steps – Over Dire and Opening." The CLE had both demonstrations and panel discussions. The "jury" consisted of over 30 University of North Texas law students. Attendees at the CLE were Fellows and non-Fellows from their firms.
225	219		Jackson	Mississippi	A group of Mississippi Fellows participated in the Mississippi Trial and Appellate Judges Conference on Oct. 25, 2018, in Jackson, Mississippi. This year, the Fellows enacted three vignettes from the Judicial Demeanor and Courtroom Control Practices prepared by the Federal Judicial Center and the College ("Belligerent Counsel", "Judicial Indifference", and "Judicial Questioning of Witnesses"), and led discussions with the judges on the topics. Randy Pierce, Director of the Mississippi Judicial College at the University of Mississippi, noted that the Mississippi Fellows' annual presentation is always a favorite of the judges.
226	220	Use of Social Media Searches of Jurors Before, During & After Trial	University of Cincinnati	Ohio	On October 26, 2018, the Cincinnati Chapter of the ACTL presented a 3-hour CLE in Cincinnati entitled, "Using Social Media to Search Jurors Before, During and After Trial". Instead of having a Mock Hearing on a Motion in front of Judge Barrett (as was done in Phoenix) they did a Mock Pre-Trial Conference which the panelists argued their respective positions. Dan Buckley, Carolyn (Candi) Taggart, John Holschuh and Doreen Canton served as the four lawyer panelists. Tom Eagen served as the Moderator. They concluded the CLE with an hour long Question and Answer section which was lively and entertaining. The Cincinnati Bar Association and the University of Cincinnati College of Law were co-sponsors of the CLE. They had a great turnout and received many compliments.

222	Nov. 2, 2018		Philadelphia	Pennsylvania	The second annual trial skills CLE training program was presented at Temple University Beasley School of Law in Philadelphia on Nov. 2, 2018, under the joint sponsorship of the Pennsylvania State Committee and Temple's Trial Advocacy Program. Nancy J. Gellman, outgoing Chair of the Pennsylvania State Committee, and Fellow Joseph C. Crawford, incoming Chair of the College's Teaching of Trial and Appellate Advocacy, participated in planning and recruiting of Fellows to participate as speakers. The College and Temple worked together to present this annual trial skills program designed for practicing lawyers, participants in Temple's trial advocacy LL.M program, and law students. The program began with an introduction by Regent Robert E. Welsh, Jr. about the College and the collaboration with Temple. College speakers included a former federal prosecutor, a federal public defender, and civil trial lawyers. Fellows Thomas J. Duffy, William J. Ricci, and John P. McShea III presented on direct and cross-examination of expert witnesses. Fellows Catherine Henry and Linda Dale Hoffa discussed the effective use of technology in the courtroom. Temple Professor Jules Epstein gave a master class in evidence, and Temple Professor Marian Braccia spoke about advocacy lessons from Hollywood. Written materials prepared by the presenters were also distributed. The audience included civil trial lawyers, criminal lawyers and law students. In keeping with its mission to support Fellow-led projects that benefit public services lawyers, the Foundation provided scholarships to public service lawyers from the Philadelphia District Attorney's Office, the city and federal Public Defender Offices, Community Legal Services and the Juvenile Law Center.

229	Nov. 2, 2018	Effective Advocacy	British Virgin Islands	International	The International Committee reported the Friday, Nov. 2, 2018 seminar in the British Virgin Islands (BVI) titled "Being a More Effective Advocate: In and Out of Court" was a success. This seminar for all attorneys and judges in the BVI was postponed almost a year because of Hurricane Irma, and was sponsored jointly by the International Committee, Virgin Islands General Legal Council, and the BVI Bar Association. The College was well represented in the BVI by the participation of President Jeffrey S. Leon, LSM of Toronto, Ontario, Richard Galperin of Wilmington, Delaware, J. Richard Kiefer of Indianapolis, Indiana, Frank E. Walwyn of Toronto, Ontario and a member of the British Virgin Islands bar, and Cynthia Day Grimes of San Antonio, Texas. Paring with local attorneys and judges, the Fellows gave demonstrations of civil and uncivil conduct and led enthusiastic discussion groups. Many thanks to Barry Leon, formerly a Commercial Court Judge of the Eastern Caribbean Supreme Court and brother of President Leon, who persevered and meticulously planned this conference despite Hurricane Irma's destruction of the BVI in September 2017. His Excellency Governor Augustus Jaspert of BVI set the tone at the beginning of the day with his perspective on the importance of the courts and lawyers in upholding the rule of law and demonstrating civility in that endeavor. Sir Dennis Byron, formerly President of the Caribbean Court of Justice, offered great insight and words of wisdom. Dancia Penn, OBE QC, former Deputy Governor and former Attorney General, and Jacqueline Daley-Aspinall, President of the Bar were great resources for Fellows and the program. On the part of the BVI lawyers and judges, their candor and willingness to openly discuss problems of civility, the judiciary, and the practice of law was impressive and an indication of the progress that can be made in the future. Fellows shared that many of the BVI issues are not unique and have been experienced in their respective jurisdictions as well. The seminar was attended by about 85-100 judges, magistrates, and lawyers who practice in the civil, criminal, and commercial courts and included junior and senior lawyers and judges. Enthusiastic participation was evident in the breakout sessions of the three groups where many ideas and solutions were shared. The group met from 8 a.m. until 6 p.m. on a Friday, indicating the high level of discussion. Each group was assigned a rapporteur who recorded and reported to the large group. The plan is to compile these notes for sharing with others. At the wrap up, President Leon was asked if the College would return again next year, and he enthusiastically agreed. The devastating effects of Irma are still evident in the BVI, including the destruction of law offices, courts, and law libraries. There is no universal access to the BVI laws online. Despite this, the bar is thriving and moving forward with dedication and good spirits.

230	224	Nov. 9, 2018	Jere White Jr. Trial Advocacy Institute	Birmingham	Alabama	On Nov. 9, 2018, the Alabama Fellows partnered with the Cumberland School of Law, Samford University to present the Jere F. White, Jr. Trial Advocacy Institute. The program, held in Birmingham, focuses on the major components of a trial from voir dire through closing statement. Fellows presented the plaintiff and defendant perspectives. In addition, there were two panel presentations. One panel addressed judicial independence in times of partisan politics and social media, and the second Judges' Expectations of Lawyers. Over 275 lawyers attended the full-day seminar. The evening before, a dinner was hosted for Fellows, their guests, and the family of Jere White. Among the presenters the Alabama Fellows welcomed President Jeffrey S. Leon, LSM, Past Presidents Chilton Davis Varner, Samuel H. Franklin and Warren B. Lightfoot, Georgia State Committee Chair Sally Yates, and Judicial Fellow, the Honorable Marc Treadwell
231	225	Nov. 15, 2018			Ohio	On November 15, 2018 13 Ohio Fellows in Cincinnati, Cleveland, Columbus, Dayton and Toledo presented an all-day seminar on Trial Practice sponsored jointly by the Ohio State Bar Association and the American College of Trial Lawyers. The seminar includes seven segments on trial practice and two hours on ethics and professionalism using the College's ethics vignettes and a presentation by Kathleen Trafford on judicial independence based on the work of the Task Force that is updating the College's white paper on that subject. Fellows participating included John Barron, Kim Herlihy, John Gilligan, Tom Green, John Smith, Dave Greer, Gerry Kowalski, Dennis Lansdowne, John McCaffrey, Bill Porter, Jim Arnold, Kathleen Trafford and Buzz Trafford.
232	226	Nov. 15, 2018			Pennsylvania	On November 15, 2018, PA Fellows Joe Crawford, Katie Recker and Chuck Hehmeyer presented materials regarding the ethical and trial advocacy issues presented by the practice of conducting Internet and social media searches about prospective and actual jurors, developed by the College's Teaching Trial and Appellate Advocacy Committee.
233	227	Nov. 30, 2018			Ohio	On November 30, 2018 Ohio Fellows William Porter, John Gilligan and Tom Green presented a 4-hour program on Ethics & Professionalism hosted by the Ohio State Bar Association in Columbus. The program was attended live and remotely via video conference. They played a series of vignettes depicting ethically or professionally challenging attorney/client, attorney-to-attorney and attorney/judicial fact patterns. The panel then discussed for each dilemma posed by the video the better and best responses from the ethical practitioner's standpoint. Audience interaction was encouraged and was extensive. At the close of the presentation Tom Green spoke for 10 minutes about judicial independence, a presentation that was put together by Fellow and former Regent Kathleen Trafford.

235	229	Nov. 30,2018	Presenting & Challenging Medical Experts: A Seminar on Discovery & Trial Skills	Jackson	Mississippi	On November 30, 2018, the Mississippi Fellows hosted a CLE program, "Presenting and Challenging Medical Experts: A Seminar on Discovery and Trial Skills". The seminar, held at the Westin in Jackson, Mississippi, began with presentations by Fellows Mildred Morris and John Banahan on identifying, preparing, qualifying, cross-examining, and disqualifying experts. Former Regent Christy Jones moderated a panel discussion, "Issues in Presentation of Experts: A View from the Bench", with United States District Judge Carlton Reeves from the Southern District of Mississippi and United States District Judge and Fellow Brian Jackson from the Middle District of Louisiana. The program concluded with Fellows Bubba Morrison and John Wheeler conducting a direct and cross-examination of Dr. Michael Stodard, an emergency room physician, based on the facts of a case they tried in 2008. The 60 attendees included Dean Pat Bennett from the Mississippi College School of Law and a group of law students from Mississippi College and the University of Mississippi School of Law. Following the CLE, the Mississippi Fellows enjoyed their Annual Dinner at the Mississippi Museum of Art with guests President Jeff Leon and Carol Best and Regent Tom Hayes and United States Magistrate Judge Karen Hayes.

237	230		Litigation Basics		Arkansas	Fellows are planning on presenting "litigation basics" to the Pulaski County Bar Association in 2019.
238	231				Missouri	The Missouri Public Defender Project which was started by Missouri Fellows is doing well in both St. Louis and Kansas City. The project involves training sessions for mainly younger lawyers who can then take on cases on behalf of Public Defenders who are totally overworked and understaffed. Fellows Charlie Weiss and Jerry Carmody are leading efforts in St. Louis. Chair Bob Adams is leading efforts in Kansas City along with Charlie Eblen (who is one of our ACTL Candidates in Kansas City). There are efforts to start the program in Boone County and efforts are being made to roll out the initiative in Springfield where there are currently 15 committee young attorneys from several firms.
239	232				Maryland	Maryland Fellows continue to present/sponsor a trial course offered by the University of Maryland School of Law and the University of Baltimore School of Law. Two or three Fellows appear at each class during the course of the semester to address and present on each stage of a litigation matter involving a medical malpractice wrongful death claim. Fellow Bob Hanley of Towson serves as the ACTL moderator for this very successful program/course. The Maryland Fellows have been sponsoring this course for more than a decade.
240	233				Teaching of Trial & Appellate Advocacy	TTAA members Steve Usdin and Jim Hubbard are working to develop a seminar on Focus Groups and Mock Juries to be presented as a joint program between the ACTL and the New Orleans Bar Association in 2019.

242	January			Alberta	David Wachowich, Q.C., attended a class at the University of Calgary law school and explained the role of ACTL, and the interest of the College in promoting access to justice and initiatives in Alberta arising out of the ACTL paper "Working Smarter but Not Harder: The Development of a Unified Approach to Case Management in Civil Litigation".
243	Jan. 25-26, 2019			Alberta	On January 25 and 26, 2019, a conference was held in Edmonton entitled "Junior Counsel Criminal Law Conference". The event was geared towards criminal practitioners with 0 to 5 years of experience. There were approximately 60 attendees and 14 panelists. The panelists were some of the most experienced criminal law practitioners in Edmonton and members of all three levels of courts in Alberta. ACTL's newest Alberta Fellow, Deborah Hatch, was one of the conference organizers. ACTL panelists were Mona Duckett, Q.C. (Regent), Deborah Hatch and Kevin Mott.
244	Jan. 25, 2019			Alabama	Alabama Fellows presented a 1 ½ hour ethics presentation to the New Admittees of the Alabama State Bar.
245	February			South Carolina	The committee plans to sponsor a free CLE on professionalism and civility, likely in February of 2019, to the states' Young Lawyers Division.
246	Feb. 20, 2019			District of Columbia	On February 20, 2019, the D.C. State Committee will sponsor a panel discussion and reception in conjunction with the Georgetown University Law Center Criminal Practice Institute on the "Life and Trials of Edward Bennett Williams." Edward Bennett Williams, a Fellow of the College and a founding partner of the D.C. law firm, Williams & Connolly, is considered to have been one of the finest trial attorneys in the country. The panel is comprised of four outstanding trial attorneys, including Brendan V. Sullivan, Jr., John J. Buckley, Jr., David E. Kendall, and K. Chris Todd. We expect the event to be well-attended by College Fellows, their colleagues and Georgetown University Law School faculty and student body.
247	March, 12, 2019			Florida	In conjunction with Florida Legal Services, Inc., Florida Fellows have participated in six training sessions for legal services and legal aid/public interest lawyers in Florida over the past several years, and currently have another program scheduled for the University of Miami School of Law on March 12, 2019, to be headed by Miami Fellow Celeste Higgins.

248	241			Quebec	A panel about legal ethics and professionalism will be held on March 14th, 2019 at McGill University. We have received more information about the class in which this panel will take place, more specifically the syllabus and required readings. We are in constant communication with the faculty for the planning of this panel. Fellow Doug Mitchell, Judicial Fellow Peter Kalichman and I, Suzanne Pringle, are in charge of the presentation.
249	242			Quebec	A panel on court etiquette and civility will also be held at Université Laval Faculty of Law on March 26th, 2019. Fellows Elisabeth Pinard and Claudia P. Prémont will present this panel. Following the great success of the panel held at Université de Montréal on the same subject, the outline will serve as a good foundation for this conference.
250	243	The Life and Trials of Edward Bennett Williams		District of Columbia	The D.C. State Committee, with the help of Williams & Connolly Fellows Brendan Sullivan and John Buckley, sponsored a presentation on "the Life and Trials of Edward Bennett Williams". The event was held at Georgetown University School of Law and co-sponsored by the Georgetown University School of Law Criminal Justice Clinic and E. Barrett Prettyman Program. It was attended by more than 200 participants and involved a lively and entertaining discussion led by Mr. Sullivan, Mr. Buckley, David Kendall, and K. Christopher Todd (also a Fellow). A reception for all was held prior to the event.
251	244			Ontario	Ontario Fellows, in partnership with The Advocates' Society, presented The Advocate Matters: Spring Symposium 2019 on Apr. 24, 2019. The practical program, a continuing professional development and networking event for civil litigators, included presentations on the following topics: The Year in Review: Key Cases in 2018; Fireside Chat with The Honourable Eleanore A. Cronk (retired), Court of Appeal of Ontario; Electronic Trial Advocacy; Demonstration & Discussion: What Category of Expert is your Opponent Calling and Why Does it Matter?; Some Reflection and a Few Lessons from Public Inquiries. Two panels were also held, with the first panel discussing "A Question of Advocacy: Handling Questions from the Bench" and the second panel presenting on "Evidentiary Issues: What Every Advocate Needs to Know." The program included a keynote presentation from Fellow and Griffin Bell Award for Courageous Advocacy recipient Andrew J. Savage as well as a presentation to Pro Bono Students Canada and their new pilot, the Indigenous Human Rights Program, the 2019 recipient of the Emil Gumpert Award. The following Fellows participated in the program: The Honourable W. 253	May 1, 2019	Anatomy of a Trial: The Rosenberg Spy Case		New York-Downstate	On May 1, 2019, several New York Fellows participated in an innovative trial practice program for more than 140 aspiring trial lawyers. Using the historic trial of United States vs Ethel and Julius Rosenberg as the model, attendees were led through opening, direct, cross and summation, in a daylong program held at the Southern District Courthouse in the very same courtroom where the Rosenbergs were tried in 1952. The program was created and led by Task Force for Boot Camp Trial Training Programs Co-Chair, Paul Mark Sandler, with the able assistance of Immediate Past Chair of the New York-Downstate Committee, J. Bruce Maffeo and New York-Downstate Committee Chair Robert J. Jossen. Among the New York Fellows who gave outstanding demonstrations or who participated in the intriguing panel discussions were: Michael F. Bachner; Matthew E. Fishbein; soon to be inducted Fellow Joan Illuzzi-Orbon; Robert Jossen; Judith A. Livingston; Susan G. Kellman; Regent Larry H. Krantz; Bruce Maffeo; Susan R. Necheles; David E. Patton; and Roland G. Riopelle. In addition, Judicial Fellow Hon. Jed S. Rakoff, Senior U.S. District Judge of the United States District Court for the Southern District of New York, participated in several aspects of the program, together with other judges from the Eastern and Southern Districts of New York and from Maryland. The program was jointly sponsored by the ABA Litigation Section and included a riveting discussion of the story of the Rosenberg trial and its historical background. This truly was the College and its Fellows acting at their best, demonstrating the skills which make them stand out as trial lawyers, and providing public service to the bar.
254	May 9, 2019	Damages: It's All About the Money -- How to Get it and How to Keep It	Sandra Day O'Connor College of Law Tempe	Arizona	The Arizona Fellows held its annual Continuing Legal Education for members of the Arizona Bar at the Sandra Day O'Connor College of Law. The topic was "Damages: It's All About the Money -- How to Get it and How to Keep It." Arizona Fellows presented the daylong conference which included topics such as: Proving and Defending Wrongful Death Damages, Developments of Punitive Damages Jurisprudence and Presenting and Defending Economic Damages in Complex Commercial Disputes. Everyone's attention was captured when a Day in the Life video was shown. It was a teaching moment for attorneys who represent not only plaintiffs but also defendants. Additionally, a section was presented on the topic of Hedonic Damages. In order to fully explore the topic, Fellow Paul McGoldrick invited his brother, Mark McGoldrick, who overcame a catastrophic injury and became a graduate of Harvard Law school and active trial attorney. Mark discussed how to present catastrophic injuries to a jury so that a juror understands how such an injury impacts a plaintiff from an emotional and personal standpoint
